

Eastwood

Eastwood House, a 19th century mansion house and the former home of Lord Weir and before that, the Earls of Eglinton, provides the perfect setting for the wedding you've always dreamed of.*

Set in its own parkland within picturesque Eastwood Park in Giffnock, Eastwood House is very accessible for your wedding guests, on the outskirts of Glasgow and enjoying excellent transport links to the West of Scotland.

The Eglinton Suite overlooking the grounds, or the spectacular entrance hall and sweeping staircase, are both excellent locations for your wedding ceremony.

Eastwood House can also be hired for your wedding reception, meaning the only times you have to step outside are to have your photographs taken in the grounds of the park, and when you head off on your honeymoon.

If you choose the Premier Wedding option, you will enjoy all the benefits of a civil marriage ceremony at Eastwood House. These include use of the bridal changing room before and after the ceremony, the chance to marry at the foot of the staircase in the grand hallway with up to 80 guests present, and use of the banqueting room and bar until late in the evening with up to 100 guests being accommodated at your reception.

We can accommodate both small gatherings and large wedding parties at your ceremony in Eastwood House. If you wish to have a ceremony only this will take place at 1pm, either at the foot of the grand staircase, where you may have 80 guests present, or the Eglinton Suite where 60 guests may attend.
